ABOUT THE PROGRAM

The Advanced Professional Program in Coaching Supervision is designed for experienced coaches with an active coaching practice who already have a postgraduate qualification in Coaching, Psychology or equivalent.

The program provides experienced coaches with an opportunity to extend their competences and skills into the area of coaching supervision.

This program was offered for the first time in the USA in 2019 in partnership with Oxford Brookes University. Oxford Brookes has been a leading provider of postgraduate education for coaching supervisors since 2006.

Peter Jackson is Deputy Director of the International Centre for Coaching and Mentoring Studies at Oxford Brookes University. He has contributed to a number of book chapters and academic papers on topics including reflective learning, coach education, supervision and embodiment. He is co-editor with Tatiana Bachkirova and David Clutterbuck of 'Coaching Supervision: Theory & Practice' and currently has another collection on coaching research in production with SAGE publications.

Angela Wright has over 25 years global professional experience including 12 years as a coach, coach supervisor, educator and researcher. Her contribution to the field of coaching supervision was recognized by EMCC with an award in 2018. Prior to her coaching career, Angela practiced as an attorney specializing in disputes around professional responsibility, breach of duty of care, conflicts of interest and ethical issues.

STAGE 1

The full program comprises four stages, three of which are optional.

Two months preparation, which starts in early September 2020, followed by an intensive four-day workshop.

The preparation phase includes preliminary reading, reflection, peer supervision and supervision practice.

The four-day workshop includes discussion, co-active reflection, experiential activities and group supervision. Participants are not initiated into a particular approach to supervision but are encouraged to experiment with the variety of approaches in order to identify their own model and style of supervision by:

- Exploring conceptual issues, coaching discourses and theoretical perspectives on supervision
- Engaging with a deeper understanding of the supervision process and related issues
- Experimenting with a variety of skills essential for coaching supervisors

Upon completion of stage 1 participants will receive a Certificate of Attendance. Program graduates are invited to Oxford Brookes annual coaching supervision conferences and colloquiums.

STAGE 2

Two 90-minute sessions of individual supervision with the program facilitators. These sessions provide participants with individual developmental feedback on their model of coaching supervision in practice.

STAGE 3

A written assignment outlining the participant's model of coaching supervision.

Upon successful completion of Stage 2 and 3 participants will receive the Professional Certificate of Advanced Study in Coaching Supervision.

STAGE 4

Assessment consisting of a written portfolio with the participant's analysis of two video/audio tapes - one of their 'best' sessions and one of their 'worst'.

Upon completion of stage 4, participants will be Accredited as a Coaching Supervisor by Oxford Brookes University.

Stages 1 and 2 are administered in the USA. Stages 3 and 4 are administered by the International Centre for Coaching and Mentoring Studies at Oxford Brookes University, UK.
